
PRIVACY POLICY

This Privacy Policy describes how users' personal information is collected, used and shared when using the Bonança & Santos website. By accessing or using our website, you agree to the practices described in this Privacy Policy.

1. INFORMATION COLLECTED

We may collect personal information that you voluntarily provide, such as name, email address, telephone number, and other information necessary to provide legal services or respond to your inquiries.

Additionally, we may collect information automatically, including your IP address, browser type, Internet service provider, pages accessed on the site, and information about the device you are using to access the site.

2. USE OF INFORMATION

The personal information collected may be used to:

Provide legal services requested by you;

Answer to your questions or requests;

Improve our website and services;

Comply with legal obligations.

3. INFORMATION SHARING

We do not share your personal information with third parties, except when necessary to provide services you have requested or required by law.

4. COOKIES AND SIMILAR TECHNOLOGIES

Our website may use cookies and other tracking technologies to improve your user experience. You can set your browser to refuse all or some cookies, but this may affect the functionality of the site.

5. INFORMATION SECURITY

We have implemented security measures to protect your personal information from unauthorized access, alteration, disclosure or destruction. However, we cannot guarantee the absolute security of information transmitted over the internet.

6. CHANGES TO PRIVACY POLICY

We reserve the right to update or modify this Privacy Policy at any time, without prior notice. We recommend that you review this Privacy Policy periodically to be aware of any changes.

7. CONTACT

If you have questions about this Privacy Policy or how your information is being used, please contact us using the contact information provided on the website.

Date of entry into force: November 6, 2023.
